Rights and obligations

Membership entitles me to use the ProjectKitchen space and existing shared infrastructure (such as 3D printers, soldering stations, oscilloscope, etc.). A long-term or permanent occupancy of workplaces or equipment is not planned, but possible after consultation with the laboratory management.

I am obliged to use all furnishings and infrastructure professionally, carefully and responsibly. For devices, which I don't, or don't sufficiently know, I commit myself to take part in an initial training.

In the case of a change of the personal data (e.g.: change of studies, etc.), I commit to inform the laboratory management.

For appointments please contact the laboratory management at core@projectkitchen.at or projectkitchen@htw.wien.

Further information can be found at www.projectkitchen.at or at www.facebook.com/projectkitchen.at.

Membership fee

Membership for the "ProjectKitchen" is free.

Note the back side!!!

¹According to the cooperation agreement of 27.11.2014, a joint project between the local student representation "Hochschüler_innenschaft Technikum Wien" (HTW) and the „Verein Fachhochschule Technikum Wien“ (FHTW)

Community

ProjectKitchen sees itself as a collaborative, open space for social networking and creative cooperation based on mutual respect. The members should benefit of the common knowledge and are open to help each other with projects or problems and bring self-initiative and willingness to learn.

ProjectKitchen aims to be a protected and free space that has no room for prejudice, resentment, disrespectful behaviour or discrimination based on gender, sexual orientation, educational attainment, physical appearance, disability, social background or religion.

Problems are handled constructively and as fair as possible. Confidential contact person for problems is / are:

- The current head of laboratory
- One or all committee member(s) (FHTW/HTW)

Personal data processing

Persons who do not have a valid training contract with UAS Technikum Wien, can't become or be members of ProjectKitchen. I hereby agree to a bi-annual review of my status with FH Technikum Wien to verify that membership in ProjectKitchen is valid.

The access authorization is granted after a positive examination of the application form by the laboratory management. The activation takes place via the access card of the FHTW. When changing the access card, a new activation is required.

I agree that access to the premises of ProjectKitchen will be logged. ProjectKitchen and HTW will not take insight in the protocol by themselves. If necessary, it will be handed over to the relevant authorities.

Copyrights

Excerpt from the cooperation agreement between the association FH Technikum Wien and the student council (HTW) on 27.11.2014:

„6 Copyrights

All copyrights to outcome, which was develop in the "ProjectKitchen", remain with the authors. Neither HTW nor FHTW will assert any rights to it “

The completed declaration can be submitted in the HTW mailbox or in the ProjectKitchen in presence of a laboratory manager!

By signing this form, I confirm that all personal information has been provided to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that I have read and understood the application form and the laboratory regulations.
